Beauty Looks Green Eyes

Got green eyes? If you are a regular reader of the beauty pages of any good glossy mag, you'll without doubt know that the simplest way to enrich your eyes is by applying purple eyeshadow. If you truly want to increase your eyes, add a dab or 2 of NYX's Jumbo Eye Pencil in the shade 'Milk ' in the inner corners and the tight line (the line of skin running beneath your eye). This will open your eyes and make you appear as though you have had a good 8 hours ' sleep, regardless of whether you haven't!. Not just that, but it will help tone down otherwise excessive eye shadow for a way more wearable, daytime look.

Do not forget to apply a slick or 2 of black or clear mascara to separate the lashes, too. And if you're going for a bold eye look, tone down the remainder of your make-up to actually accentuate your eye shadow. A peach lipstick and a fast sweep of pale pink blush should do the trick. Are you an expert at making a smoulderingly sultry smoky eye?. If this is so mix things up a little by adding some purple shadow.

Eye shade not for you? Go for a dark purple liquid liner as an alternative or a fast dusting of sparkly shade in the inside corner of your eyes. Fill in your brows with an eyeliner or dark shade to increase your eye make-up and run an eyebrow brush thru any straggly hairs. Sixties make-up is a massive hit at the moment, so why don't you add a thick flick of eyeliner to form the retro winged look. Purple eye shade can easily look 80s and not in a great way. So ensure you keep your look current by keeping the remainder of your make-up reasonably neutral.

Stuck for Ideas?. There are tons of great how-to videos available on the web, offering tips on all things from how to apply your eye shadow to the proper way to create a wonderfully contoured face with blush and bronzer. Great make-up is simply a click or 2 away.
