How to Shop for Silver Earrings

If you like silver earrings, you are not alone, as women throughout the ages have appreciated the timeless appeal of this type of jewelry. While the styles change from one decade to another, you can be sure some kind of silver earrings will be fashionable. Lets look at some styles of silver earrings and the best places to find them.

Silver earrings are not only accessories for your ears, they should match your body, face and clothes. You may notice that many celebrities and artistic people like silver, and one reason for this is that it looks good with dark clothing. If you are a woman who frequently wears black, silver earrings will always look good on you. The look of a persons face will change somewhat with different kinds of earrings. While small earrings will make your face seem bigger, larger earrings will make it seem smaller. The time of day, event and your own style will also determine the kind of earrings you want. There are earrings that give you a professional appearance, and others that make you look more glamorous. Whatever fashion statement you want to make, you can find silver earrings that can help. Watching your pennies doesn't mean that you can't get a pair of silver earrings that you love. Granted, you will pay more for earrings that have precious stones such as rubies, emeralds, or diamonds in them. The trick is to look for a similar style with a reasonable price as a more expensive pair that you like. For the most part, you will only be compromising on the type of stone that is used in the earrings. Because some semi precious stones resemble the more expensive ones, you still get a great looking pair of earrings. Take garnets and rubies as an example; they look similar but garnets cost less. No matter what the size of your budget, you can find a great pair of silver earrings.

Some women refuse to get their ears pierced regardless of the fact that they like the jewelry. You can still wear one of the many styles of clip on earrings and no one will know the difference. The newest alternative to piercings is magnetic jewelry. The magnet in these should be strong enough to keep them in place. These can be a great alternative to traditional pierced ears. A few people find these magnetic earrings to be painful.

Silver earrings are appropriate for any occasion and because of their versatility you can find the right pair to meet your needs. Browsing online and through jewelry catalogs can be a great source of inspiration for the kind of earrings to buy. Use these suggestions to help you locate the perfect pair of silver earrings, either for yourself or as a gift. This information was brought to you by <http://www.firescreens.org>.
