Jewellery Is A Good Apology Gift

There are various reasons people get upset and angry with other people. People try different techniques to make them smile and make them realise that you are sorry. Silver jewellery is definitely one of the techniques people have used in the past. I have given silver jewellery to apologise and it has worked for me so I would suggest the same thing to you guys.

If someone close to you is angry or upset with you because of something you have done then it might be a good idea to apologise by getting them the jewellery. If you have tried all other things and still hasn't then jewellery might just help, just give it a go. I am not saying that because of jewellery they will be happy I am just saying the thought of it might get you the forgiveness you been wanting. People have used jewellery and flowers to apologise to someone and they do bring a smile on peoples face. Flowers have already been proven that they are beneficial for health. Jewellery certainly brings a smile not sure if it is good for health though.

Saying sorry from the bottom of your heart and giving the gift is just ideal to beg for forgiveness. Giving away gifts might not be ideal in some circumstances to say sorry though. This advise is useful if you have made a tiny mistake and you are saying sorry for that. Lets say you missed mothers day or you forgot your girlfriends birthday. This technique is not going to be helpful if you have hurt someones feelings deliberately.

I was out of the country last month hence I missed out on mothers day and my mother is not easy to please. So I got her few silver brooches and silver bracelets which she can give away to her family when she goes to America next week. I said sorry deeply and also gave her the jewellery - in return I got a big hug and a thank you back from her. If it worked for me it can work for you, just try it out.
