Trendsetting Handbag Designers

The popularity of designer purses is at an all-time high. In all places we look, from the excessive road to the nightclub, everyone seems to be carrying a trendy new purse. Plainly we are often so preoccupied with our new purses that we are likely to forget about the individuals behind the designs. I began making an attempt to develop a shortlist of my favourite designers, however I realized that I am in love with the work of far too many to list. The next are just a few of my favorites.

Chloe is, by far, one the greatest design homes within the world. I absolutely love their work! At instances, I feel that a number of the French designers are a little excessive...but the place would true fashion be without their sense of creativity and innovation. Chloe has been a pacesetter in the world of vogue, particularly since the Stella McCartney assumed the helm. Her star energy and understanding of classic design reinvigorated a company that was typically lacking the cohesive aesthetic that really binds a collection together. Make no mistake about it...Chloe is the brand new Gucci!

Vivienne Westwood has executed more for British design than every other designer in modern times. In some ways, your entire punk genre owes her a debt of allegiance. Vivienne was just a young girl throughout the heyday of punk, when she met a fellow named Malcolm McLaren. For those of you not particularly effectively versed in your punk rock history, Malcolm was the manager of the consummate British punk band – The Sex Pistols. After dressing the Pistols for quite a few years, she opened her own store in London known as Sex Boutique. Punks worldwide have adopted her design aesthetic, and the rest is history.

Monica Botkier is yet one more good designer. Her designs are held in excessive esteem by women throughout the world. After spending the early part of her profession as a trend photographer, Monica Botkier has definitely spent enough time within the trend world to know what constitutes a great handbag. She is able to strike the right steadiness between perform and kind, and her designs are some of the most sought after with fashionistas everywhere. Monica Botkier's designs are famous for their detailing, [hardware], and innate sophistication.
