

Published based on Unique Gifts For Mom: Wall Art with Spectacular Marquetry to Show Her How Much You Love Her

Unique Gifts For Mom: Wall Art with Spectacular Marquetry to Show Her How Much You Love Her

Great gifts for mom can be a little tricky. What can you give the woman who brought you into this world? What can you give that will show her how important she is to you?

When we were kids, our moms would consider anything we gave them priceless. Even a rock or a stick would be considered as if it were a precious diamond. Remember eagerly giving her your handmade cards?

Looking back, it was a feeble attempt yet she would frame them and display them as if they were works of art. Everything was easier when we were kids. In our mother's eyes, we were simply perfect.

We were always her pride and joy. Mom made sure that she took care of all our needs, cooked our favorite foods, had freshly baked cookies whenever we came home from school, tended to us when we were sick and agonized when we fell and hurt ourselves. Each time we missed our curfews, she would be there to make sure we didn't get into more trouble with dad.

She cried with us when we went through our first heartbreak, hugged us and told us there was someone better. And when we inevitably went through our teenage angst and ignored her, we gave her a lot of headaches and heartaches yet her love and support for us remained. She allowed us to explore and find ourselves and when we came back, she only had her arms wide open.

The connection between a mother and child is so strong it cannot be destroyed. We never realize the hardships and pain our mothers go through until we ourselves become parents. Watching your kids grow, knowing that later in life, they will experience pain, you want to shelter them as much as possible.

And this is what our mothers have always felt for us. Moms are special not only because they brought us into this world but they are the foundation that keeps the family strong. They make sure that everybody's needs are met first before their own.

It is only right that we show our love and appreciation for them. One way to express your appreciation for your mom is with an exquisite hand carved wall art with elegant marquetry pattern. Marquetry is an age-old art where expert craftsmen meticulously piece together thin slices of wood to come up with spectacular designs.

Designs that feature flowers will remind her of the times that you spent gardening in your backyard. A pattern that shows the sunset will bring memories of the time the whole family went camping. Whatever design you choose, she will definitely remember you each time she gazes at it.

And you will be assured that the gift you gave her is rare and cannot be found anywhere else. While you can be sure that mom will value anything you get her, the time and effort you put into choosing a gift is something she deserves. The thought and careful attention to detail will be highly appreciated and will make her feel more special.

If you want to give your mom something that shows just how much you love her, then an expertly made wooden wall art adorned with intricate marquetry will convey the message perfectly.

This article was written by Rachel Manalo of MarqART Gift Shop. Our jewelry boxes are original works of art, no two creations are the same. Each wood shown has its own unique wood grain pattern and color. MarqART comes from combining the words marquetry (wood inlay) + Art (a creation of beauty) an apt name for our products. A fine addition to your dressing table or as a gift. Please visit <http://www.marqartgiftshop.com> to browse & buy exotic jewelry boxes that will give you a lifetime of pleasure!

You can also find this article published on Unique Gifts For Mom: Wall Art with Spectacular Marquetry to Show Her How Much You Love Her, and on the tag pages gift, great gifts for mom, jewelry, unique gifts for mom.